2012 Texas Star Award Recipient STEVEN WINOGRADSKY

STEVE WINOGRADSKY is a partner in Winogradsky/Sobel in Studio City, California, providing global media and music business affairs & legal support for composers, songwriters, music publishers, recording artists and television, film, video and multi-media producers.

Prior to being in solo practice with The Winogradsky Company, Mr. Winogradsky was employed by Hanna-Barbera Productions, Inc., MCA Home Entertainment, Universal Pictures and Universal Television and The Clearing House, Ltd.

He was twice elected President of the California Copyright Conference, after spending nine years on the Board of Directors, and also served for four years as President of The Association of Independent Music Publishers.

Mr. Winogradsky was named as one of the Outstanding Instructors in Entertainment Studies and Performing Arts at UCLA Extension, where he has taught since 1997. He has written numerous magazine articles on the subject of music for motion pictures and television and has lectured on a variety of music-related topics at various symposia, with 2012 being his 20th consecutive year of presenting at the Texas Bar Entertainment Law Institute.

He is also the author of the upcoming book, Music Publishing: The Complete Guide, to be released in early 2013.

For its generous support of this program, TexasBarCLE and the Entertainment and Sports Law Section of the State Bar of Texas recognize and thank:

Policy of Impartiality
The State Bar of Texas does not endorse political candidates. When a candidate for public office is included in promotion for or participates in a TexasBarCLE event, the State Bar is not taking a position for or against anyone's candidacy.

ABOUT THE COVER ARTIST

Guy Juke has been an Austin based graphic artist and musician since he moved there from San Angelo in 1973. As a poster artist he created many memorable works of art for the Armadillo World Headquarters, the Austin Chronicle Music Awards, Carnival, and other venues.

His work is recognized for its darkly detailed, often shadowy and angular figures inspired by horror films, haunting western landscapes, and loopy cartoon characters.

Join the Entertainment and Sports Law Section

Formed in 1989, the Entertainment and Sports Law Section has over 500 members. The Section is directed at lawyers who devote a portion of their practice to entertainment and/or sports law and seeks to educate its members on recent developments in entertainment and sports law. Membership in the Section is also available to non-lawyers who have an interest in these areas.

The Entertainment & Sports Law Journal, published twice a year by the Section, contains articles and information of professional and academic interest relating to entertainment, sports, intellectual property, art, and related areas. The Section also cosponsors seminars of interest to its members, such as this annual Entertainment Law Institute.

Membership in the Section is from June 1 to May 31. To join, go to TexasBar.com and login to MyBarPage. There you will see "My Sections" and a chance to click on "Purchase Sections." Check "Entertainment & Sports Law" and pay the $30 annual fee with a credit card. Or complete the information below and forward it with a check in the amount of $30.00 (made payable to ENTERTAINMENT & SPORTS LAW SECTION) to Sandra Carlson, P.O. Box 12487, Capitol Station, Austin, TX 78711.
